

2010 EACUBO Annual Meeting Registration Now Open!

We are now ready to open registration for our signature event – EACUBO's 2010 Annual Meeting, October 10-12 in Washington, D.C.

Program - Our Program Committee has assembled breakout sessions to ensure the educational value is as robust as ever and we are very excited to reveal one of our keynote speakers for the event – Roger Staubach. A Heisman trophy winner and one of the most well-known names in football, Staubach will mesmerize the audience with tales and lessons drawn from his life.

Reminder: Reserve your place now for this summer's EACUBO/Cornell Administrative Management Institute

There are still a few seats left for the Administrative Management Institute (AMI, <http://www.sce.cornell.edu/ami>), one of the country's top professional development opportunities, to be held July 26 to 30 on the Cornell University campus.

This institute, co-sponsored by the EACUBO and Cornell, focuses on helping talented professionals hone their leadership skills. Through inspiring panel discussions, workshops, lectures, and case studies, participants and distinguished presenters will discuss such timely topics as ethics and fiduciary responsibility; negotiation essentials; environmental health and safety; risk management; and current issues in employment law and IT security.

Register online now at <http://www.sce.cornell.edu/ami> or contact the Administrative Management Institute at 607.255.7259 or culp@cornell.edu.
